

RGA Comments On Definitive Agreement Between Metlife and GenAmerica Corporation

August 26, 1999

St. Louis, Missouri, August 26, 1999-Reinsurance Group of America, Incorporated (NYSE: RGA, RGA.A) said that MetLife and GenAmerica Corporation announced today that they have reached a definitive agreement whereby MetLife will acquire GenAmerica and its subsidiaries, including General American Life Insurance Company. Under this agreement, MetLife will gain effective control of RGA through General American's 53% equity ownership position. No other changes to RGA's ownership structure are currently anticipated.

"MetLife's acquisition of General American is extremely positive for RGA," commented A. Greig Woodring, President and Chief Executive Officer. "This transaction will allow us to continue providing our clients the quality products, services and ideas they have come to expect from RGA. With MetLife's financial strength and support, we expect RGA to continue its growth, both domestically and internationally, far into the future." The transaction is expected to be completed in approximately four to six months and is subject to regulatory approval.
